

2022 SUMMER CAMP

June 20-24 2022

8:45 am - 3:30 pm

UGA College of Environment and
Design Building
Athens, GA

Join us for a five-day camp introducing young women to the construction industry through a variety of activities and speakers on the UGA campus. The camp will include tours of active UGA construction sites.

The camp is organized and hosted by the Athens Area Women in Construction (AAWIC), a non-profit corporation comprised of women in the Architecture, Engineering, and Construction (AEC) industry. AAWIC is dedicated to bringing awareness of the AEC industry as a rewarding and exciting career choice for women.

Participation is limited to 12 young women, who must be rising high school juniors or seniors in the Athens area community. Participation in the camp for each of these students will be paid for by donations from local AEC companies. Participants must provide their own transportation to and from camp at the beginning and the end of each camp day. There will be a fair amount of walking around the UGA campus.

Applications must be submitted by 5:00 p.m. on Friday, May 20, 2022 to be considered. To access the application, scan the QR code or visit this link: <https://forms.office.com/r/CYDmrrTt8Q>
